

"CBSE Class 12 English(Core) Article Writing Format & Examples" will deal with the format and all the topics of articles on reading, writing, learning, festivals, current burning topics, health, career, sports, and current topics.

Article Writing Class 12 English(Core) is an important topic for the students appearing in the class 12 examinations of different states and carries 5 important marks.

Article writing is the most effective way to communicate your ideas via an online platform. CBSE Article Writing Class 12 English (Core) will boost your writing and reading skills while studying for the 12th-grade English exam. Before writing an article, readlearnexcel.com will help you draught a perfect article for class 12 English (Core) for your examinations and online presence by writing some good blogs on the topics of your interest.

The examples in this article will enhance your skills in writing content for your website. Therefore, you need to know the format, marking scheme, 7 C's, and some important tips for writing an article for your class 12 English examination. We will help you master your techniques for article writing by providing examples of current topics and previous years' questions on article writing. You will have some important articles that cover all the topics of reading, writing, learning, festivals, current burning topics, health, career, sports, and current topics.

Marking Scheme: Article Sample Question Paper(2022-2023) CBSE Class12 English(Core)

- Format: 1 Mark
- Organisation of article ideas: 2 Marks
- Accuracy in article writing: 1 Mark

Format of Aricle Writing

Article Writing

FORMAT OF ARTICLE

Title of Article

Name of the Writer

Body of the Article

1. Introduction of Article

2. Details of Article

Problems, facts, and Solutions

3. Conclusion of Article

www.readlearnexcel.com

M.S.YADAV, LECTURER

The format of article writing is important to understand as it will help the writer and reader to understand:

An article must be organized properly to draw the attention of the readers. The basic outline for an article writing format is

- Heading / Title of Article
- Name of the Writer
- Body of the Article (Explain the problem in detail, facts, and solution in 2-3 paragraphs)
- Conclusion (conclusion explains the output of the article, suggestion, or advice)

Format of Article Writing: 1 Mark

TITLE OF THE ARTICLE

Example: Diwali

WHO HAS WRITTEN THE ARTICLE?

By Neha

Note: Full Marks if Both are written

MAIN BODY OF THE ARTICLE

Paragraph 1. Introduction of the article in two to three sentences

Diwali is the most significant festival for Hindus all over the world. We are going to celebrate Diwali on October 24, 2022. We exchange our best wishes for Diwali either by distributing greeting cards or writing messages on Whatsapp and Facebook.

Paragraph 2. Explain in details of the article, include all the points given as clues in the examination.

There are five important days, beginning with Dhanteras, Chhoti Diwali, Diwali, Govardhan Pooja, and Bhai Dooj. Students celebrate Diwali at the school level by cleaning their classrooms and exchanging wishes with their friends and teachers. All the family members come to the house to celebrate the festival of lights and hope together. We get the blessing of our elders on this occasion. I wish you all a happy Dhanteras! May Diwali 2022 be filled with happiness and prosperity!

Concluding Paragraph of the article: Message of the article

Diwali brings a great spirit of festivity, but in the last few years, it has been noted that the pollution level increases on Diwali due to the excessive use of crackers and firecrackers.....

Marking Scheme of Article Writing CBSE Class 12 English(Core)

Contents and Organisation of the Article: 2+1= 3 Marks

- Include all the given points: Festivals.....Importance.....exchange sweets....greetings....days before ...festival of lights....children use crackers..precautions and morals on the festival..
 - Develop in a systematic way with full clarity
 - Highly effective style capable of conveying the ideas convincingly with appropriate layout
 - Carefully structured content with organised paragraphing presented cohesively.
 - Highly effective register (formal tone, tense, and vocabulary), relevant and appropriate sentences for conveying the ideas precisely and effectively.
-

Accuracy in the Article: 1 Mark

- Spelling, punctuation and grammar consistently/largely accurate, with occasional minor errors, that do not impede communication.
-

Do you know how to write an article?

An article is a piece of art that explains your ideas and facts to enhance the knowledge of the reader and is supposed to be published in newspapers, websites, and magazines. There are different types of articles:

1. Factual Articles: They explain the facts as they are without any personal views of the writer.
2. Argument-based articles: Arguments from the writer and readers are welcome to reach an acceptable solution to the problem.
3. Explanatory or narrative articles: recounting incidents
4. Articles are written in a way of describing the situation with the help of adjectives.
5. It aids people in understanding the situation and should be convincing.

What are the 7C's of Article Writing?

1. Clear: The article's content must be clear, understandable, and progressive towards the required results. The expressed ideas must be logically connected. The language should be straightforward. Long and ambiguous expressions, as well as repetitive words and phrases, should be avoided. Jargon should be avoided.
2. Concise: The article should be brief and to the point. All words should stand on their own. While writing the article, try to avoid including any irrelevant information. Long and ambiguous expressions, repetitive words, and long phrases should be avoided. Mention only the necessary points.
3. Correct: Avoid misinformation. Write only those things which are feasible and valid as per the requirement of the article.
4. Considerate: Be courteous to the article's recipient. Always be courteous when writing an article. Avoid using rude language because it harms the relationship with your readers.
5. Concrete: The explanation of the queries should be concrete and effective.
6. Coherence: The main points of the article should be explained in the first paragraph. In the body of the article, elaborate on the main points. The solution is required in the conclusion section. It means, there should be continuity in all parts of the article.
7. Complete: It is assumed that an article has a proper structure and that the contents are meaningful. It means that it should be finished from all sides. The article should include all parts of the article. The article is said to be structurally complete and must satisfy the readers.

What are the Main Points to Keep in Mind before Writing an Article?

Always keep the followings questions in your mind before you start writing an article:

1. Do you know what are you going to write?
2. Why are you writing an article?
3. Who are your audiences?
4. Do you know the format of an article?
5. What will be your keywords?
6. Do you know how to maintain the 7C's of writing an article?
7. Do you have the correct source of data?
8. Always keep the title small and explanatory?
9. Do you know how to check grammar and spelling?

Article Writing Examples/Topics

CBSE Class 12 English(Core) Article Writing Format & Examples will cover all the topics of articles on reading, writing, learning, festivals, current burning topics, health, career, sports, and current topics. These article will appear in class12 English examination.

Article Writing: 1. Importance of Worker Safety in Construction Area

QUESTION: The construction sector is believed to be quite hazardous and has the maximum number of fatal work injuries because apart from other causes, stakeholders in this sector tend to ignore safety regulations.

As a columnist for an e-zine, write an article in about 120-150 words, on the theme of the importance of worker safety in construction zones. Explore possible reasons for the prevailing situation and include suggestions for addressing it. Support your ideas with cues given below:

HEADLINES

- CONSTRUCTION WORKERS: RISK OF ACCIDENT DUE TO FATIGUE
- CONSTRUCTION WORKERS: HEALTH CHALLENGES IN EXTREME WEATHER CONDITIONS
- CONSTRUCTION WORKERS FATALITY: BURRIED UNDER SOIL HEAP
- ARE CONSTRUCTORS MANAGERS FROM MARS AND WORKERS FROM VENUS?
- WILL TRAINING PROGRAMME REVAMP THE SAFETY STANDARDS?

Important points for writing the above article

- Explain the dangerous nature of the construction sector and write why.....importance of workers safety
- Explain the issues with legible reasons(Minimum 2 reasons)
- The organisations ignore safety measures- Exploitation
- Excess work , result is Fatigue
- Harsh Weather conditions worsen the situation of the worker
- Suggest your solution if any 2
- Awareness programme
- Implementation of the laws
- Bridge gap between top management and the workers
- Provide training and safety kits to the workers.

Answer: Workers Safety in Construction Zones

2. Teachers are the backbone of Society: Article Writing

“Those who encourage us to think for ourselves are the actual teachers,” Servepalli Radhakrishnan.

Teachers are widely regarded as the most important members of our society. They give children a sense of purpose, prepare them for success as global citizens, and instill in them a desire to succeed in life. Today’s children are tomorrow’s leaders, and teachers are the critical point at which a child is prepared for their future. What is the significance of teachers?

The Guru, or teacher, comes after parents and guides the child onward in life. Parents are a child’s initial teachers and teach them lessons about life. Our instructors were significant individuals in our formative years; they served as mentors, sources of inspiration, and additional parents who imparted valuable life skills. They may have occasionally been harsh with us, but looking back, it was only done to mould and shape our abilities, compel us to confront our anxieties, and help us improve our inadequacies.

A successful teacher not only transmits knowledge to their pupils, but also motivates, inspires, and fosters a sense of problem-solving curiosity. Teachers’ Day is a significant holiday observed worldwide to honour these extraordinary persons in our lives.

What makes teachers so important? Teachers truly are society’s backbone. They serve as role models for children, provide guidance and dedication, and empower young people through education. Countries can progress socially and economically because of teachers. When you or your community accomplish something great, remember and be grateful to the teachers who made it possible.

CBSE Previous Years’ Questions on Article Writing For Class 12 English(Core)

The practice and the learning of the previous years’ questions on articles will help the students in improving their writing skills and the chances of securing good marks in their class 12 examination of CBSE.

3. Article Writing: The Need of More Women in Police Force

Question 1.

The number of women in the police force seems insufficient especially when we see the increasing involvement of women in terrorist activities. Write an article in 150-200 words for The Hindustan Chronicle’, on the need of having more women in the police force. (2010)

HEADLINES

- Role of Police
- Role of Women Police
- Women Criminals
- Maintaining Law and order, POSCO and IPC

- Treatment of women criminals by the male police
- Coordination between male and female police staff
- Benefits of women police in Police Forces
- Women population
- More women in police department means justice to the women community
- free fro gender biased

The Need of More Women in Police Force

By Rekha

Most Indians feel women are weak, helpless, and unsuited for the police force. Though the number of women in law enforcement has increased, there are hurdles, including a paucity of women in leadership and cutting-edge roles, their negligible participation in overall law enforcement, gender-specific concerns, a lack of infrastructure, and male colleagues' stereotyping.

Women's police jobs are expanding. Our women police officers have championed women's emancipation, sowing the seeds of modernism and constructive change in society. Incorporating more women into the force has empowered women and reduced crime against them, especially against those who accepted it as their fate.

In law and order situations involving women, they must search and seize. IPC and POCSO oblige women to deal with sexual assault victims and juvenile delinquents. Women cops are Covid's frontline. Our women have been a beacon of strength during Covid-related chaos.

To Increase the female police roles, we must remove tokenism and give women a key role in the police, free from gender bias. Otherwise, their numbers will grow without impact.

4. Article on Girl Child Education in India

Question 4.

In many parts of our country girls are still discouraged from going to school. Consequently, a sizable section of the population is deprived of education. Schemes like Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, CBSE scholarship to the single girl child and the Government's policy of giving free education to girls have come as a boon to our society. Write an article in 150-200 words on the education of the girl child in the country. [Delhi 2010]

Girl Child Education in India

By Sakshi

Poverty, cultural norms, familial traditions, social limitations, poor infrastructure, violence, and fragility hinder Indian females' education. In rural places, parents consider girl children a liability and a barrier to financial development. UNESCO estimates that 129 million girls are out of school, including 32 million in elementary school and 97 million in secondary school.

Girls' education goes beyond school. It's also about ensuring that girls learn and feel safe in school, that they complete all levels of education, acquiring the knowledge and skills needed to compete in the labour market, that they gain the socio-emotional and life skills needed to navigate and adapt to a changing world, that they make their own decisions, and that they contribute to their communities and the world.

Gender bias, poverty, and child marriage are adversely affecting girls' education. Parents in India feel uneasy about the girl child; hence, they are only allowed to go to school nearby but not to college, which is far from their homes. Girls are routinely forced to walk long distances to school, putting them in danger of violence, and many are victimised at school. Child marriage is a problem. Younger brides are more likely to drop out of school and complete fewer years of schooling.

Poverty affects a girl's ability to complete her education. Girls are routinely forced to walk long distances to school, putting them in danger of violence, and many are victimised at school. Child marriage is a problem. Younger brides are more likely to drop out of school and complete fewer years of schooling.

Things are changing quickly in India. The Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, the CBSE scholarship for the single girl child, and the government's aim of giving girls free education are altering things. Beti Bachao Beti Padhao is an initiative of the Indian government. The main aim of the programme is to promote girls' education and improve the efficiency of welfare services. As a result, girls' education will aid in the improvement of the society's economic, family planning, health, and sanitation conditions.

5. Article on 'The Impact of Advertisements on the Younger Generation'.

Question 5.

Advertisements have become a big business. They are promoted by celebrities drawn from various fields like films, sports, etc., leaving their influence on all people specially the young. Write an article in 150-200 words on 'The Impact of Advertisements on the younger generation'. (Delhi 2010)

The Impact of Advertisement on the Younger Generation

by Rakhi

Advertising is a technique used by various organisations and institutes to popularise any product, campaign, or general warning. "The Impact of Advertisements on the Younger Generation" is affected by the young generation's maturity level, and it has both advantages and disadvantages.

Advertisements bombard the young generation through various platforms such as television, social media, print media, and wall writings.

The organisations take advantage of the opportunity to advertise their products by paying high fees to celebrities, and the younger generations are drawn to the celebrities rather than the products, and they buy the products without knowing what they are. Thus, such things can have a negative impact on the younger generation, but on the whole, they learn a lot after being duped.

Advertisements for harmful products such as alcohol and cigarettes, which easily attract the younger generation and can have negative effects on their health, should be prohibited.

Some advertisements are educational and creative, and the younger generation can benefit greatly from them. As a result, positive advertising has no negative impact on youth in general. As a result, we can conclude that advertisements have both positive and negative effects on youth, and it all depends on how they interpret them.

6. The Best Way of Travelling Long Distance: An Article for Travellers

Question 6.

Travelling has become a source of knowledge and enjoyment. People are always confused about the way they should travel? Write an article on the methods of travelling and their pros and cons in 150-200 words.

The Best Way of Travelling Long Distance

By Simaran

How should we travel? This is the question which everyone ponder before travelling. Long-distance travellers are frequently forced to choose between travelling by land, sea, or air. Nobody enjoys sitting on a train for more than a few hours. Train compartments quickly become crowded and stuffy. It is nearly impossible to divert your attention away from the journey. The monotonous rhythm of the wheels clicking on the rails soon lulls you to sleep, so reading is only a partial solution. Sleep comes in spurts during the day. You rarely get to sleep at night, even when you really want to. If you get a couchette, you spend half the night staring at the small blue light in the ceiling or fumbling for your passport when you cross a border. You will eventually arrive at your destination almost finished. Long car rides are even worse because it is nearly impossible to read. You can travel fairly safely at high speeds on highways, but most of the time, the majority of the journey is spent on narrow, bumpy, congested roads.

7. Teachings of Budha: An Article on Budha

Question 7.

Recently you visited Lord Budha temple at Bodh Gaya. You read Budha's Teachings and the History of Budha. Write an article on Budha's teachings for the benefit of the students of your school in not more than 150-200 words.

Teachings of Budha

By Sumer

About one-fifth of the world's population adheres to the teachings of the Buddha, who lived around 2600 years ago. He was born in the year 563 B.C. The Buddha is a title, not a person's name. It translates as "The Enlightened One" or "The One Who Knows." Siddhartha was the Buddha's given name. In northern India, he was the son of a Sakya King. He and his family were all Hindus from the Gautama clan. Gautama Siddhartha was raised in luxury. He was raised in his father's palace and never saw the outside world until he was a young man. Then, one day, Prince Siddhartha went around the city with his charioteer Channa. On his way, he passed by some sights he had never seen before. First, he noticed an elderly man who was bent with age. Then he saw a man who had a terrible disease, possibly leprosy. Then he noticed a dead man being carried to the crematory. The prince was saddened by these sights. After achieving nirvana, Lord Buddha began teaching people the way of life. He presented his initial teachings with five holy men near the city of Benares, and they immediately understood and committed to follow Lord Buddha. For forty-five years, Buddha and his students propagated the Buddha's teachings and wisdom throughout India. Lord Buddha's teachings are also known as Dhamma. Consider some of the significant teachings that Lord Buddha has provided for the benefit of humanity.

8. Ways to Live a Meaningful Life: An Article on Meaningful Life

Question 8.

Our circumstances and conditions are not dictated by the world outside; it is the world inside us that creates the outside. Write an article in 150–200 words on how we can live a meaningful life.

Ways to Live Meaningful Life

By Priyansi

At some point in our lives, we may ponder the significance of our existence. Living a meaningful life and determining what is meaningful are questions as old as humanity. To live a meaningful life, we must be mindful of our ideas, since they are the basis, inspiration, and driving force behind our actions. We build the entire world with our thoughts.

The causes are thoughts, and the outcomes are conditions. Our circumstances and conditions are not determined by the external world; rather, they are the result of our inner world. Self-awareness originates in the mind, which indicates the soul. Mind is the condition of awareness that is comprised of cognition, will, and emotion. In addition to self-awareness, humans possess the ability to choose and to reason. Krishna asserts, "No man is ever passive." Even when passive on the physical level, we are perpetually engaged on the mental plane. Consequently, if we examine ourselves, it is simple to shape our thinking. If our ideas are pure and noble, our actions will automatically follow suit.

9. The Earthquake and its Effects: An Article on Earthquake

Question 9.

There is an enemy beneath our feet — an enemy the more deadly for his complete impartiality. He recognizes no national boundaries, no political parties. The enemy is the earth itself. When an earthquake comes, the whole world trembles. An earthquake strikes without warning. Write an article in 150–200 words on earthquake.

The Earthquake and its Effects

By Sanjay

There is an enemy beneath our feet whose complete impartiality makes him all the more dangerous. He recognises no national boundaries, no political parties. The planet itself is the enemy. When an earthquake strikes, the entire world shakes. An earthquake strikes unexpectedly. When it does its power is immense. If it strikes a modern city, it will cause as much damage as if it had struck an ancient village. When gas mains rupture, explosions and fires result. The underground rail system is in ruins. Whole structures collapse. Dams burst. Bridges crumble. Vacant spaces appear in crowded streets. If the earthquake occurs at sea, enormous tidal waves will sweep inland. If it occurs in a mountainous area, avalanches thunder down the valley. In 1968, Alaska was struck by an earthquake. Due to the sparse population in this region, only a few people were killed. However, it is likely that this was one of the world's most powerful earthquakes ever. Geologists estimate that the entire state moved more than 80 feet westward into the Pacific Ocean as a result of the earthquakes.

10. Importance of Sea for Humans: An Article on Importance of Sea

Question 10.

The sea, which covers three-fourths of our planet's surface, both divides and unifies the many human races. Write an article in 150–200 words on importance of sea.

Importance of Sea

By Riya

The water has long provided food, labour, and trade for humans. The excessive human activity is threatening the survival of submerged creatures. Plastic in water is a major problem. Plastic is killing marine species, which harms the marine population. Pollution has also degraded the seafloor and reduced biodiversity by extinguishing sea beauties.

The sea, which covers three-fourths of our planet's surface, both divides and unifies the many human races. The sea is the huge highway that man may travel along at his leisure; it is the great road that is unrestricted by walls or hedges, and that no one is required to maintain in good condition with the aid of pickaxes, barrels of tar, and steamrollers. The sea appeals to man's love of the dangerous and uncharted, as well as his passion of conquest, knowledge, and money. Its rivers, which are green, grey, blue, and purple, beckon to him and tell him to set forth in search of other fields. He has discovered peril and death, fame, and wealth beyond their horizons. There are cities and villages on some large continents, like America and Australia, that are thousands of kilometres from the ocean, where the youngsters have never seen, heard, or felt the waves of the sea.

The sea has always been a vital resource for both humans and the planet. It is a vibrant environment teeming with mammals, fish, mollusks, algae, and other organisms.

11. Nehru and Children Day: An Article on Children Day

Question 11.

Your school celebrated Children Day on November 14, 2022 on the birth anniversary of our First Prime Minister. Write an article in 150-200 words on Children Day.

Children's Day, which is observed every year on November 14 to commemorate the birth anniversary of India's first prime minister, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. Pandit was born on this day in 1889, and this year, the country is celebrating its 131st birthday anniversary.

Pandi Nehru was concerned about the children and their welfare, "Nehru saw in their innocent faces and sparkling eyes the future of India. He was convinced that no amount of money spent on children and their mothers was too much, and that it was a sound investment for the future," M. O. Mathai wrote in his book My Days With Nehru (1979). The future of any nation depends upon the development of the children as they are the future of the world. Nehruji once said about the children of India, "I have always felt that the children of today will make the India of tomorrow, and, the way we bring them up will determine the future of the country." When asked by Ram Narayan Chaudhary in an interview in 1958. Pandit Nehru didn't want any religious following his death. His love for the children was an instrument in deciding Children's Day.

12. New Year Resolutions?: An Article on New Year

Question 12.

You are eagerly waiting for the new year 2023 and you are planning to make new resolution on new year. Write an article in 150-200 words on New Year's Resolutions.

New Year's resolutions. Most of us could mentally compile dos and don'ts lists. The same old favourites return every year. We'll get up early, eat healthy, exercise, be nice to people we don't like, and spend more time with our parents. We've learned from experience that some goals are unattainable. If we're deep-rooted liars, it's because we've experienced failure's frustration. Most people fail at self-improvement because their plans are too ambitious and they lack time. We also make the fundamental error of announcing our resolution to everyone, making us look even more foolish when we revert to old habits.

This year, I kept my resolutions to myself. I limited myself to two goals: early exercise and evening reading. An overnight New Year's Eve party gave me a decent reason for not keeping these resolutions on the first day of the year, but on the second, I did. I advocated doing the 11-minute daily exercise before anyone was awake. Discipline was needed to get up 11 minutes early. However, my enthusiasm waned. I soon fell back into my old bad habit of falling asleep in front of the TV. I've kept my reading resolution.

13. Importance of Small actions and Choices in our Life : An Article on Small actions and Choices in our Life

Question 13.

Many of us believe that 'small' means 'insignificant'. We believe that small actions and choices do not have much impact on our lives. We think that it is only the big things, the big actions and the big decisions that really count. Write an article in 150-200 words on importance of small action and choices in our life.

Many think 'small' means 'insignificant' We think tiny actions and choices don't matter much. We think only large activities and decisions matter. All great people established their character via modest daily decisions, choices, and actions. Step-by-step, they changed their lives. They gradually developed good behaviours and eliminated undesirable ones. Small decisions made a big difference over time.

Personal growth and character development don't happen quickly. Growth is sequential. Organic growth. When we watch children grow, we witness this process at work: first they crawl, then stand and walk, and then run. In nature, too. The soil must be tilled before planting. Then it needs water and sunlight to grow, yield fruit, and mature. Gandhi understood and utilised this natural process. Gandhi grew in daily life. He didn't suddenly become "Mahatama." His early life didn't exhibit much excellence. From his mid-20s on, he tried to alter, reform, and progress daily. He risked failure, experimented, and learned hour-by-hour.

Small decisions and behaviours had a big impact over time. With this knowledge, we can confidently pursue our dreams. When our "ideal aim" seems far away, we get disillusioned and pessimistic. When we grow slowly, it's easy to do.

14. Reforming our Education System: An Article on Reforming Education System

Question 14.

You recently attended a seminar on the need for our educational system to shift its focus from insisting upon remembering to emphasizing or understanding was stressed upon. Write an article in 150-200 words on 'Reforming our Education System'.

Many kids find school dull. Learning is regarded boring and avoidable. Thanks to proponents of an information-focused education system. Too much syllabus, too many students per teacher, absence of hands-on activities, teaching as a routine with the purpose of completing the syllabus in time rather than transferring knowledge, and curriculum designed with the most brilliant student in mind are major factors. Peer pressure, high parental expectations in a competitive society, and technology diversions weigh on young minds.

For a change, might we have some English/Hindi poems to ickle, tickle, and pickle youthful minds? Can we teach History so children are proud of their background instead of memorising dates? Physics and chemistry lessons in labs instead of classrooms? Can a method be established to make school excursions mandatory to assure visits to historical/botanical sites?

Can educational institutes launch interschool Internet projects like foreign schools do to encourage children to investigate on their own and write reports? Can we make childhood's amazement last into adulthood instead of pushing premature adulthood? Hence, students should be asked to write their own imagination instead of cramming the written things. Children should be allowed to use their own imagination to write the answers in their own words.

15. Environmental Pollution: An Article on Environmental Pollution

Question 15.

Your school recently visited Delhi and faced lot of air pollution and your throat got chocked. Write an article in 150-200 words on Environmental Pollution.

Environmental Pollution

By Yashika

Environmental pollution is the introduction of contaminants or harmful materials. Pollutants are contaminants. Natural and man-made pollutants exist. Volcanic ash and storm dust pollute naturally. Industrial waste and vehicle smoke are human-made pollutants. Pollution harms air, land, and water.

Pollution has been a constant in human history. It's long caused deaths and diseases. Urbanization, industrialization, mining, and exploration cause global pollution. Many useful items pollute. Exhaust pipes emit pollutants. Coal combustion pollutes. Industrial and residential waste pollutes land and water. Pesticides leach into waterways and harm wildlife.

Farmers deplete the soil by using too many fertilisers and pesticides. Poor sanitation, commercialising farmlands, a lack of drainage systems, the use of pesticides in agricultural products without limits, and salinization and degradation of agricultural lands cause pollution in rural areas.

Toxic chemicals like bleach, paint, and thinner should be properly disposed. Buy non-toxic household products. Public transportation reduces air pollution by using less gas and energy. 50-person bus reduces private vehicle use.

16. Human Nature to be Judgmental: An Article for class 12 students

Each of us makes judgments. Even you, yes. I most certainly am, frequently. I believe it to be in human nature. Although it is in our tendency to pass judgement, I don't believe it is always beneficial to us. We despise others because we believe we are superior, and this causes conflict among people. Consider this for a moment: whenever we see someone, we automatically judge them based on their appearance or behaviour. likewise bad judgement. typically without even knowing the individual.

We don't try to understand the other person or determine whether our first judgement was accurate by getting to know them. Without trying to comprehend, we judge. And that's the end of it; we don't endeavour to learn more so that we can communicate better, comprehend better, and eventually construct a bridge between two people. Can you establish a rapport with everyone you meet? Most likely not. But I've discovered that making the extra effort, even just once every day, may have a significant impact.

Build a bridge between two people instead of passing judgement. Stop being judgmental if you catch yourself doing so. Since this requires more awareness than we often possess, the first and most crucial step is to spend a few days keeping a close eye on your thoughts and trying to identify any instances of judgement. This process could be challenging.

17. Language Learning: An Article for class 12 students

Question 17.

Learning language plays an important role for the academic career of the students. Language stands head and shoulders above all others as a learning tool. Language confers an intellectual advantage on humans over all other organisms. Write an article in 150-200 words language learning.

A baby begins to learn the moment its eyes open. Vision and touch start a learning process that will shape the individual's personality significantly. Language stands head and shoulders above all others as a learning tool. Language confers an intellectual advantage on humans over all other organisms. No other species can compile a list of concepts, analyse them, draw conclusions, and then explain his reasoning. All of this is possible for man because he has the ability to communicate.

Learning a new language necessitates the acquisition of hearing, speaking, reading, and writing abilities, as well as the acquisition of a new alphabet and writing system. This is a common mistake made by language learners.

Language acquisition is a time-consuming and difficult endeavour that requires dedication, perseverance, and effort. If you're reading this, you're probably already aware of this. Learning a new language entails learning a LOT of material, so you'll want to make the most of your study time. Memory always matters while learning language and this can be done by giving more time in reading comprehension,

18. Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav: Article Writing

The entire country is commemorating India's 75th anniversary of independence. Schools and colleges are also celebrating Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav. Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav programmes are being organised to celebrate and commemorate 75 years of progressive independent India. As a result, an article on Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav in English is one of the most important article for the examination point of view for the students of class 12(Core) of CBSE. This Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav Article is approximately 200 words long.

The 75th Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav in India, with the theme “Nation First, Always First,” was celebrated with different programs.

Article on Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav in English

Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav is a government of India initiative to celebrate and commemorate 75 years of progressive independence in India. India is commemorating the glorious history of its people, culture, and achievements through the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav. It embodies everything progressive about India’s sociocultural, political, and economic identities.

On March 12, 2021, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi flagged off a 75-week-long festival to commemorate 75 years of India’s independence from Sabarmati Ashram. This began a 75-week countdown to our 75th anniversary of Independence Day, which will conclude a year later on August 15, 2023.

On March 12, 1930, Mahatma Gandhi began the Dandi Yatra from Sabarmati Ashram for the awakening of the country’s self-reliance and self-respect, and on this day in 2021, Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi began the symbolic Dandi Yatra, which marks the revival of our journey of self-reliance and self-respect with the beginning of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav.

Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav is dedicated to the people of India who have been instrumental in bringing India far on its evolutionary journey and only been instrumental in bringing India far on its evolutionary journey, but also have the power and potential to enable Prime Minister Modi’s vision of activating India 2.0, which is fueled by the spirit of Atmanirbhar Bharat.

19. Article on Importance of Books

Do books play any role in our lives? Books play an important role in everybody’s lives; they introduce us to a world of imagination, provide knowledge of the outside world, and improve our reading, writing, and speaking skills. They boost our memory and intelligence. Books help us in many ways. If you want a friend, books can become your best friend. Try it first and then realise it in the same way you make friends in your life. Books illuminate your imagination. Books develop a unique view of the world. These days, books are coming in digital form, and you don’t need to carry them. Books can develop your confidence in a natural way. Books help to develop your confidence, as all of you know that without reading books, you may fail exams. Books help you to improve your reading skills, which ultimately improves your language skills. Books develop your analytical skills. Mathematics books are the main source of analytical skills. Reading books improves your confidence because confidence comes from knowledge. You gain knowledge by reading books. When you read a book, you learn about the struggles and hardships of various characters. Reading can expand your vocabulary and communication skills, which can help you interact better with people. Reading is an effective way of boosting your memory and enhancing your focus. Reading makes you empathetic. Reading is great fun for many people, but some people also feel burdened if they are compelled to read books that are not in their interests. Reading also has many benefits for your mental health in the form of thinking and understanding. Therefore, start reading books and see the difference in you after reading two to three books.

20. Article on Exams Fear/Phobia

“Success’ elevator is broken.” One step at a time, please. GiardMarch exams begin. Students, parents, and teachers disagree. Exams are an ongoing, year-long process. Students often feel stressed, worried, and tired. Everyone must help pupils manage stress. Teachers can counsel students. Co-studying reduces exam stress. Exams always cause conflicts. Exam phobia affects all ages. Some students acquire exam anxiety. It could give students psychological issues. I try to reduce my kids’ school exam anxiety. Let’s explore the causes and remedies for student exam dread for their benefit. Examphobia causes Exam phobia causes include: Exam phobia can impair a child’s physical and emotional health, so we must help them overcome it. Kids with low self-esteem and anxiety need help. Exam anxiety might cause poor performance. Here are some exam anxiety strategies: Take deep breaths to calm your mind and ease stress. Yoga and meditation help. Now, calmly write down your strategy. Prepare for tests by making a study regimen. Good plans allow students to take breaks between studying sessions, decreasing stress and maximising time. Students don’t sleep throughout tests. This causes most exam anxiety. So, sleep well. Diet is also important; drink water and eat fruit to boost metabolism. Eat healthily to stay active. Long-term reading can create tension, fatigue, and fear. Your phobia will worsen as your mind can’t process more information.

21. Article on Self-Regulation

Every individual can resist impulses, adapt their behaviour to standards, and modify prevailing behaviour to achieve distal goals; this is called self-regulation. Common terms for self-regulation include “self-control, self-management, anger control, emotion regulation, and impulse control.” Self-regulation can help manage chronic health conditions and predict psychological well-being. In every field, e.g., education, sports, health, vocational, etc., self-regulation is linked to positive functioning and outcomes.

Both students and teachers use academic results to measure learning success. It’s important to determine the factors that influence academic outcomes, such as student efforts, beliefs, and learning techniques. Psychologists, educators, researchers, and academicians have long recognised that students’ academic beliefs and self-regulated learning play an essential role in achieving high academic performance.

People are advised to use self-regulation to manage and control health issues. Many people use self-regulation techniques. Successful people and students use self-regulation to achieve behavioural and health goals.

22. Article on Mahatma Gandhi

Mahatma Gandhi, born in Porbandar, Gujarat, on October 2, 1869, advocated truth and nonviolence and valued indigenous art. Bapu's teachings are still relevant because our country was blessed with a man who practised simplicity in everyday life. "Bapu" Mahatma Gandhi led India's independence movement. Indians around the world celebrate his birthday. "Bapu" was Mahatma Gandhi, India's freedom fighter. Indians around the world celebrate his birthday. On his birthday, Indians around the world reflect on his nonviolence and selflessness teachings.

Some people thought Gandhiji favoured Muslims despite his efforts for unity. Gandhiji was assassinated in Delhi on January 30, 1948, as he headed to a prayer meeting. He said "Hey Ram" Gandhiji was honoured globally. Mahatma died. Everyone was surprised. The world mourned the death of the great man, a real Mahatma, who dedicated his life to serving humanity and teaching truth, brotherhood, peace, nonviolence, equality, and simplicity. Following his example is the best way to honour him.

23. Article on Heroes Martyrdom Day.

On September 23, 2022, English Haryana will observe its Heroes Martyrdom Day in memory of known and unknown Haryana martyrs, and people will pay tribute to Haryana's freedom fighters, particularly the martyrs. Haryana celebrates Veer Saheed Rao Tula Ram's birthday, which is known as Rao Tula Ram Jayanti. Rao Tula Ram is revered in Haryana as a hero for his role in driving the British out of the state's southwest region. He also helped insurgents in Delhi. Haryana honours the soldiers and fighters who fought for India on this day.

Functions are held in various locations throughout Haryana. People gathered at Silani Gate Jhajjar in Jhajjar, Haryana, to pay homage to the martyr, Rao Tula Ram, the eminent freedom fighter of 1857. A ceremony is held at Silani Gate, where a statue of Rao Tula Ram was erected many years ago. As a mark of respect, police officers salute during the ceremony. Police officers also turned their arms upside down during the event.

Independence Day is a national holiday in India observed annually on August 15 to honour the freedom fighters. Independence Day marks the end of British rule in India in 1947 and the birth of a free and independent India. It also commemorates the subcontinent's partition into two countries, India and Pakistan, which took place at midnight on August 14-15, 1947. (In Pakistan, August 14th is Independence Day. Following the British victory at the Battle of Plassey in 1757, the English East India Company took control of India. The East India Company ruled India for 100 years before being replaced by direct British rule (also known as the British raj) in the aftermath of the Indian Mutiny in 1857-58. Mohandas K. Gandhi led the Indian independence movement during World War I, advocating for a peaceful and nonviolent end to British rule.

24. Article on Independence Day

India celebrates festivities throughout August. Independence Day begins the season. India celebrates Independence Day on August 15 to honour the freedom fighters. Independence Day celebrates India's independence from British control in 1947. On August 14-15, 1947, at midnight, the subcontinent was partitioned into India and Pakistan. Pakistan's Independence Day is August 14. After the Battle of Plassey, the English East India Company ruled India in 1757. The British raj superseded the East India Company after the Indian Mutiny of 1857-58. Mohandas K. Gandhi headed the Indian independence movement throughout WWI and pushed for a peaceful end to British rule.

This day is dedicated to all those who gave their lives, minds, bodies, and souls to free India. Countless lives were lost, and many were tortured, but India rose as a free country with great determination and faith. On August 15, 1947, India's tricolour flag was hoisted above the Lahori Gate of the Red Fort in Delhi. Every year to this day, the Prime Minister hoists the flag and commemorates the occasion in Delhi, India's capital. Following the Prime Minister's address to the nation, a military parade is held, which is broadcast live across the country. In addition, the President gives a speech.

The 75 years since independence represent the hard labour, inventiveness, and enterprise of regular Indians. We Indians have worked hard at home and abroad. Our Constitution is awesome. We value democracy. India, the mother of democracy, strengthens democracy. India's expertise and science mark Mars and the moon.

25. Article on Dr. B.R. Ambedkar

Every year on April 14, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's birth is commemorated as Ambedkar Jayanti or Bhim Jayanti. Every year, Ambedkar Jayanti is observed to commemorate Ambedkar's significant contribution to the Indian legal system and constitution. The day is also known as 'Ambedkar Equality Day' in the Canadian province of British Columbia. On April 14, India commemorates Dr. Bhimrao Ambedkar's birth anniversary as the country's first law minister. Ambedkar Jayanti is the name given to this day. Dr. Bhimrao Ramji Ambedkar is widely regarded as the Indian Constitution's founder. The constituent assembly drafted the world's longest written constitution during his presidency, which is now known as the Indian Constitution.

He was always sympathetic to the underprivileged, and he worked tirelessly to improve the lives of women, labourers, and untouchables, among others. Dr. Ambedkar was a scholar in many fields, including political science, law, and economics, as well as a learned social reformer and orator. Dr. Ambedkar was a social reformer, economist, and powerful orator.

26. Article on Importance of Yoga

Yoga has grown in popularity among all segments of society, regardless of caste, creed, or boundaries. People who practise yoga on a daily basis are able to control a wide range of diseases and have significantly improved their health. It has become an integral part of their lives. Yoga is “not just about body balance or mind-body balance, but also about balance in the human relationship with the world.” “Yoga emphasises the values of mindfulness, moderation, discipline, and perseverance,” the UN adds.

Yoga provides a path to sustainable living when applied to communities and societies.” The theme of “Yoga for Humanity” is appropriate for Yoga Day. We should help communities practise yoga in order to improve societal health. A healthy society keeps the country on top. Students, parents, and teachers should work together to improve our nation’s health and be proud citizens of a healthy country.

United Nations Secretary-General Antonio Guterres, said that this year’s yoga day theme reminds us of “how yoga is truly universal”. He further added, “For hundreds of millions of people worldwide, yoga has also been an essential lifeline during the Covid-19 pandemic, providing an important means of coping with the challenges of social isolation and stress.”

27. Article on The importance of Family Day

The importance of commemorating International Family Day 2022 has grown as life has changed dramatically for the majority of us in the modern world. It’s natural to question the value of family in light of technological advancements, shifting cultural norms, new priorities, and new forms of contact enabled by the Internet. Is it a dying institution that has no place in today’s world? Obviously not. However, the family structure is constantly changing. Family is still as important, if not more so. It will undoubtedly be required in some form or another in the future, no matter how much life changes.

Strong family bonds, like many other healthy social relationships, benefit society and individuals in a variety of ways. In 1993, the United Nations General Assembly established the International Day of Families. This day represents the value the international community places on families. The United Nations Organization selects a theme for this occasion each year. This contributes to the strengthening of family structures in countries all over the world.

The International Day of Families raises awareness of family-related issues. Social, economic, and demographic processes have an impact on every family. The goal of the day is to raise awareness about these issues. This is an emotional day as well because everyone wants to spend it with their families. Every year on May 15th, the world commemorates the day,

28. Article on The importance of Mother’s Day

For all mothers, whose contributions are routinely disregarded, Mother’s Day 2022 is a once-in-a-lifetime occasion. Every mother’s immeasurable and unselfish commitment to her children’s achievement is celebrated on this day. It’s also a day to express gratitude for what she has accomplished. One human connection consistently performs better than all others. It alludes to the connection a mother has with her offspring. Nothing compares to a mother’s unflinching love, dedication, and commitment to her kids. Mothers put in endless effort from the minute their children are born to make sure they are always protected and that their personalities are developed to assist them face the challenges of life. Mother's Day is celebrated to honour all moms and their efforts.

Every child has a fundamental need for blissful, unconditional love and care, which is why the terms "Mother" and "Jagat Janni" evoke that feeling. There are countless justifications for her being in a child's life, and they hold true for all living things, including both people and animals. Since this tie begins long before birth, children and their mothers seem to have an enduring connection. The number of factors that contribute to mothers' importance to children may go on forever, but we have compiled the five most significant ones below.

29. Article on International Workers' Day

International Workers' Day, generally known as Labor Day in most nations, is honoured annually on May 1. The day is a celebration of labourers everywhere. The labour union movement, notably the "eight-hour day" push, is where the day got its start. The day, often referred to as May Day, is celebrated in a number of nations, including China, Cuba, and India.

International Workers' Day, generally known as Labor Day in most nations, is honoured annually on May 1. Workers' Day is observed on a global scale. This global holiday is held on May 1. It is most frequently connected to commemorating the accomplishments of the labour movement. It is celebrated as a public holiday in more than 80 countries and is also known as International Workers' Day or May Day.

In various regions of the world, it is also referred to as May Day. This day honours the accomplishments and services of labourers to the advancement of the nation. In several nations, this day is also recognised as a national holiday.

The status of work in contemporary cultures is the outcome of a protracted historical process. It not only offers money resources, but it also plays a crucial role in elevating people's feelings of usefulness and belonging. Additional benefits of work include its function as a socialising tool, a venue for social interactions, and a source of personal identities. Work can therefore be seen as a fundamental component of both societal and, to a significant extent, individual existential organisation.

30. Article on Earth Day

"Invest in our world" is the theme of Earth Day this year. Have we made investments in our planet, or have previous generations exploited it? We must give it serious consideration! We honour our mother because Earth is our mother. Do we, however, honour Mother Earth? We will continue to rely on the earth because we have always done so. Unfortunately, we have never taken its health seriously. Our Mother Earth is experiencing a severe exit crisis as a result of all of these exploitations, and it will be very difficult to restore peace and health to it from this point forward.

Let's make a sincere effort to transform Mother Earth into a living being. Reduce, Reuse, and recycle, please. Use again what you discard. To protect natural resources and landfill space, adhere to the three "R's". Display volunteerism. to purify your neighbourhood. aids in raising societal awareness of hygiene. Teachers and students should inform the public about the value of living things, and you should all be motivated to work toward educating people about the significance and worth of our natural resources. Conserve water by learning how. We waste and discharge less water the less of it we consume. Ocean water eventually becomes waste water. Be sustainable and minimalist. Learn how to lead a simple, environmentally friendly existence. Buy carefully. Instead of using plastic bags, we should purchase reusable ones. Always Put down a tree in your neighbourhood. We get our food and air from trees. They provide shade, clean the air, help us save energy, and fight climate change.

31. Write an Article on Importance of Creativity and Innovation

Creativity and innovation always help children express their opinions, views, and emotions in new and expressive ways through practical projects, science models, music, singing, dancing, theater, computer projects, and art projects.

Such efforts and creation will always enhance and help in the emotional development of students, and this will help them in realising their hidden talents, which is the best way to excel in their lives, helps in stress management Stress in children and teens creates anxiety and fatigue. Stress has an immediate and long-term impact on children's health, happiness, and development. Worries and nervousness must be managed by children and adolescents.

Creativity and innovation assist students in overcoming academic stress, such as the burden of exams, and achieving high grades. Aids in career advancement: The syllabus, course, and curriculum should be creative and innovative. This will enhance their subject knowledge and their understanding of the concept of collaboration. Students always learn to know real-life applications.

32. Article Writing on Dussehra for Class 12 of the CBSE/HBSE

A lot of festivals are held throughout the culturally diverse nation of India. Dussehra, a celebration of Good Over Evil My beloved India, where people of all cultures and religions coexist, is beautiful because of its festivals. Nevertheless, these festivities reflect India's beauty. India is a religiously divided nation that is united through its festivals. People of different religions celebrate every holiday in India.

Everywhere in the nation, people celebrate Dussehra as a national holiday. Dussehra 2022: The Hindu festival of Vijayadashami, also known as the Symbol of Good Over Evil, is observed every year in India soon after Navratri and 20 days before Diwali. In India, the month of October is dedicated to festivals, and the festivities get underway on August 15, or Independence Day. In honour of both Goddess Durga's victory over the monster Mahishasur and Lord Ram's victory over Lanka's King Ravna, Happy Dussehra is observed.

Dussehra offers us a chance to give up harmful habits and pick up some ethical principles in order to succeed in life. It symbolises the victory of good over evil. Dussehra thus symbolises the victory of good over evil. Bad habits should be abandoned and good ones adopted.

33. Teachers' Day Article

True teachers encourage independent thought. Radhakrishnan

Parents are a child's first teachers, teaching them life lessons; the Guru comes after them. Our teachers were role models, inspirations, and parental figures who taught us life lessons during our impressionable years. In retrospect, they were tough on us to mould our abilities, face our anxieties, and improve our weaknesses. India celebrates Teachers' Day on September 5, the birthday of former President Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan.

A good teacher inspires, encourages, and instils problem-solving curiosity in their students. Teachers' Day is celebrated worldwide to honour these special people. In the U.S., it's celebrated in May and in the UK on October 5. In India, Teachers' Day is observed on September 5, Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan's birthday.

We congratulate all teachers on Teachers' Day 2022 and hope the teaching community will continue spreading the message of love and hard work as the key to success in life. We also expect students to be patient while learning in the classroom on Teachers' Day 2022. Teachers should be credited for making everyone happy.

34. Write a Janmashtami article for 12th Class

Lord Krishna said, "Karma is intent. Intent matters. Those motivated only by action's fruits are miserable because they're always anxious about the results. Janmashtami brings hope and happiness, according to legend.

Kansa ruled Mathura as Krishna's uncle. According to a prophecy, the couple's eighth son would bring Kansa's demise. He locked Devaki and Vasudeva up and killed their first six children after hearing the prophecy. Balram's foetus magically moved from Princess Rohini's to Devaki's womb. While the palace was sleeping, Krishna was born. Vasudeva took the boy to Nand Baba and Yashoda's home in Vrindavan. Vasudeva gave Kansa a baby girl after the transaction. She transformed into Durga when he tried to kill the baby. Krishna grew up in Vrindavan and killed his uncle Kansa there.

Lord Krishna says karma is about the goal. Motive matters. People who act for rewards are sad because they're always worried about the consequences. Lord Krishna reframes life in the Bhagwad Gita. He helps us understand fundamental principles that, while seemingly unimportant, can affect our lives.

35. Article on Exams Result

The result brings happiness for those who achieved their target, and it's a moment of stress and anxiety for those who underperformed as per their expectations. We are worried about those who didn't perform well. So, please share this article within your groups to avoid any mishaps.

Tensions about results, performance in the results, and what to do after the results have gripped students, parents, and teachers. The parents' thoughts were taken over by fears of result-related suicides. It's unfortunate, but it's true. After the result is known, this is the critical moment to handle the problem. As a result, everyone is wondering how to deal with exam result anxiety.

"Make up your mind that no matter what comes your way, no matter how difficult, no matter how unfair, you will do more than simply survive." "You will thrive despite it." Joel Osteen

Your parents' expectations of your performance are sincere. It's a normal process because of so many aspects, such as social, peers, neighbours, and, of course, your future. "Just relax" is the best advice for both parents and children.

36. Article on Stress in Children

Stress in children and adolescents is common these days. There are many causes of stress in children. Stress can cause a physical, emotional, or psychological reaction among children and teens. Children in primary as well as high school face a lot of stress due to the high expectations and stringent requirements at all levels of education. Therefore, stress affects performance in school, participation in classes, and the well-being of children and adolescents. Stress in children and teens creates anxiety and fatigue. Stress has an immediate and long-term impact on children's health, happiness, and development. Worries and nervousness must be managed by children and adolescents.

Generally, it has been found that the major trait of stress among children is due to their parents' behavior. They don't care about their children's worries and pressure. They increase strain among children. In our experience, we have learned that parents generally fight with each other at home. Children get pressured due to their behavior, and sometimes they are always afraid of their parents and don't share their trauma with their parents.

37. Article on Causes of Stress among Children and Remedies

In the 1980s, students didn't find the school stressful. Happy students who played games regularly had fewer career tensions. Academics are a major stressor for students today. Brand and Schoonheim-Klein (2009) said student stress is multifactorial, arising from academic and non-academic factors, including socio-cultural, environmental, and psychological attributes.

Economic and social stress contribute to child stress. Family discord or divorce causes children's stress. They don't care how their kids feel, so they want both parents. The nuclear family causes most child stress. In nuclear families, the family unit is small and parents can't solve their children's problems. Busy schedules prevent family members from playing with them.

Because they don't understand individual aspirations, schools and teachers contribute to childhood stress. School changes upset children. They feel alienated in the new environment and are offended by healthy or bullied kids. Many students worry about exams and have exam phobia. They don't sleep all night and developed exam anxiety and stress.

Too much trauma, on the other hand, is extremely unhealthy. Sit quietly, close your eyes, and do nothing for a minute or so. Thoughts will come and that is okay. It is natural to have thoughts during meditation. After a minute or so, in the same natural way that thoughts come, and without moving your tongue or lips, quietly inside start saying your mantra. The meditation will help in reducing anxiety and nervousness among teens and adolescents.

38. The causes of the stress on the modern generation: Article

Question 38.

The present-day youth are greatly stressed due to cut-throat competition and consumerist culture. Write an article in 150-200 words on the causes of the stress on the modern generation suggesting suitable solutions. (Delhi 2010)

Today's youth are highly stressed as a result of cutthroat competition and consumerism. Stress in youths and adolescents is common these days. There are many causes of stress in youth. Stress can cause physical, emotional, or psychological reactions among youths.

The scientific and technological era has resulted in fierce competition and a consumerist culture. We are all busy making plans for our future if we don't have jobs, and people with jobs are always lost in further planning and promotion, and due to all these, they have forgotten the principles of morality and ethics.

Material life has made a lot of changes in our behavior, and we have forgotten the ethics of life. We don't believe in the minimalist lifestyle and always pursue material comforts. Competition has become so fierce that we have to wait for jobs for an extended period of time, and sometimes we don't even get one. Peace of mind, health, and pleasure are the treasures of human beings, but unfortunately, we search for material comforts and forget to live a peaceful life. As a result, for today's youth, who are overburdened by cutthroat competition and consumerist culture, living a minimalist life is the ultimate solution.

39. Article on Communal Harmony Day

40. Article on Constitution Day November 26

41. Article on ‘The Impact of Mobile on the Younger Generation’

Question 7.

Compulsory value-based education is the only remedy for inculcating values among the future citizens of the country. This will also help in the prevention of crime in the country. Write an article in 150-200 words on the need of compulsory value-based education. (All India 2010)

Answer:

The impact of mobile technology on the younger generation can be positive as well as negative, and it totally depends on the way it is used. There was a time when communication was made through letters and messengers. Time changed, the use of phones started, and then came the trend of simple mobile phones just for the sake of calling only. The introduction of touch-screen mobile phones revolutionised the world, bringing people closer together while increasing screen time and making people obsessed with mobile phones. Keeping a good mobile phone became a status symbol.

The mobile phone has helped the young generation reach the world without traveling. It helps the young generation academically as they don't need to attend the classes physically and can take them online, especially during the Corona period when students were not able to attend the classes and their mobile phones became their classrooms. Mobile phones have become the source of income for the young generation, as they are easily recording videos and uploading them to Youtube to earn their livelihood.

The use of a mobile phone can be dangerous if it is not used responsibly, as the number of youths seen using them for no purpose has increased. Children have developed bad habits of gaming and chatting as they lose their precious time for study. As a result, parents and teachers must advise their children on how to use their mobile devices responsibly, as they are a valuable source of information for success in life.

42. Article on Vehicles causes pollution and traffic jams

Question 8.

Increase in the number of vehicles causes pollution and traffic jams. Write an article in 150-200 words for ‘The New Indian Express’, Delhi, highlighting the urgent need to solve these man-made problems, giving suitable suggestions. You are Madhav/Madhuri. (Delhi 2010)

Article on Vehicles causes pollution and traffic jams

By Madhuri

“Sooner or later, we will have to recognise that the Earth has rights, too, to live without pollution.” “What mankind must know is that human beings cannot live without Mother Earth, but the planet can live without humans.” Evo Morales

The introduction of contaminants or harmful materials into the environment is referred to as pollution. These contaminants are called pollutants. Pollutants can be natural or man-made.

Natural pollutants are volcanic ash and dust from storms. Pollutants are created by humans, such as industrial waste products and smoke from vehicles. Pollutants damage the quality of air, land, and water. An increase in the number of vehicles causes pollution and traffic jams.

Public transportation can help reduce air pollution because it consumes less gas and energy. A bus carrying 50 people helps to reduce the use of private vehicles. Use your appliances only when necessary to save energy and, ultimately, to reduce air pollution. Persuade people to use LPG gas because it reduces air pollution significantly. An increase in tax on personal vehicles can help reduce air pollution and the problem of traffic jams. Plant more trees to reduce carbon dioxide emissions.

43. Article on Corruption: The Role of Youth in combating corruption

Question 43.

Corruption has become the order of the day. It has entered all walks of life. Write an article for your school magazine in 150-200 words on 'The Role of Youth in combating corruption'. You are Vijay/Vineeta. (Delhi 2011 2010)

'The Role of Youth in combating corruption'

By Vijay

The newspaper is full of stories of people caught red-handed taking bribes in different cases. India is a developing and young country. India's reputation as a global power is emerging. A lot of investment is coming from different countries. India is shining, but on the other hand, the problems of corruption, environment, pollution, misuse of natural resources, etc., are increasing day by day. Everyone is fed up with corruption, but things are deteriorating rather than improving, and corruption at all levels has increased. Youths are frustrated as they confront corruption everywhere. The young generation has to come forward to combat the corruption in the country.

The youth can play a vital role in combating corruption as they can guide their parents and society to work against the disease of corruption, which has become a hinderance in the progress of the country. Unfortunately, the youth are going abroad as they are totally fed up with the corrupt system. Everyone is affected by this disease of corruption. The youth can start an awareness programme to work against the rising corruption. Hence, "the role of youth in combating corruption" is vital for the progress of the country.

44. Supportive Parents And Stress-Free Students/ Parents' Role in Stress Management

Question 44.

You are Keshav/Karuna, a social worker and counsellor. You are concerned about the stressed behaviour of both parents and students during the time of examination. Write an article in 150-200 words to be published in a local daily on 'Supportive parents and stress-free students' giving ideas to enhance healthy and meaningful PARENT- WARD rapport and for making the atmosphere relaxed and encouraging during examination time. (Complt. Delhi 2012)

Answer:

Supportive Parents And Stress-Free Students/ Parents' Role in Stress Management

By Karuna

Stress in children and adolescents is common these days. There are many causes of stress in children. Both parents and students are stressed during the time of the examination. Good parents make the atmosphere relaxed and encouraging during examination time for their wards.

Parents must understand their child's strengths and weaknesses to plan for his future. They talk about their child's interests and problems. Assure their child that the outcome will be positive. Consolate him for his poor performance. Take their children out on summer vacation to divert their attention. If they don't understand their interests and hidden talents, they should seek the help of a counselor. They always use positive language: "Don't worry, beta, you tried well and will improve next time." Don't compare their child with others, as every child is different. Just compare their performance with their previous results and try to improve it. Parents always support and allow their children to continue, regardless of the time or outcome.

45. An Article on Parents' Role to Keep Their Children Free of Stress

Stress in children and adolescents is common these days. There are many causes of stress in children.

Developing a Healthy Atmosphere at Home Parents play an important role in keeping their kids away from stress, anxiety, and fear. They should not fight with each other, as it adversely affects the kids. They start feeling isolated. Allow your kid to solve a small problem with a free mind. This way, they become confident and start taking their own decisions. I have been confronted with many parents who always interfere in their children's choice of courses and careers.

Such children always seek their parents' advice and never become independent. This type of interference creates stress among children or adults. Educating children on the use of social media Parents should advise their kids about the use of social media and help them become savvy digital consumers. They should limit their screen time. Play with your kids to keep them healthy and mentally fit. Try to involve them in their homework. Take your kids out for social interaction.

46. Article on Importance of Festivals for Students

Observances of national and international festivals always benefit students academically and culturally. It's natural that whenever we think of celebrating festivals in schools, we feel excitement and happiness. Hence, students don't feel any academic burden while celebrating festivals in schools. Observances of national and international festivals bring students and teachers together, and they enjoy the culture and history of the festivals without any liability for academics.

It's psychologically proven that celebrations and other practical activities boost students' interests, and when you do something that piques your interest, there is always a great chance that your academic performance will be enhanced. So, schools should celebrate festivals to help students learn more about them. Festival observances also help students do well in school by improving their speaking, learning, and writing skills.

47. Article on Importance of Books

48. Article on Anxiety of Results

49. Article on Boards' Exams

There is a three-tier system in school education in India. Elementary education is the beginning of secondary education, and class 10 is the most important stage for students to succeed in senior school. Furthermore, CBSE and all other Indian boards consider class 10 to be a board class. The psychological factor of fear of exams comes in the way of appearing in the first board exams. Students are not trained mentally to appear in board examinations. So, Class 10 Board Exams are a very important part of a student's life if they want to do well in school in the future.

Which path do you want to take after Class 10? Although I see no difference between the class 10 board exams and your class 9 exams, the situation is exaggerated by referring to them as board exams, and students are under pressure from board exams only because of psychological pressure created by various sections of society and even teachers. When you got good grades, your parents assumed it was your talent without knowing what you were interested in.

50. Article Writing on Diwali

51. Article Writing on Dussehra for Class 12 CBSE/HBSE

52. Article Writing on Teachers' Day

53. Article Writing on Veer Saheedi Diwas

Important Articles for Practice

- Discrimination In Society
- Advertisements As A Source Of Information
- Youth And Democracy
- Youth And Mobile Phones
- Alarming Rise In Road Accidents
- Importance Of Simple Weddings
- Exercise And Healthy Living
- How To Ensure Safe Life In Cities
- Importance Of Outdoor Games
- What I Want To Be In Life
- Slow And Steady Wins The Race
- Unity In Diversity
- Health, The Best Wealth