Passage I. Read the passage given below. 10 Marks

1. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow: 10

1 Last week, a wild elephant was radio-collared for the first time in Assam State Forest Department and World Wildlife Fund (WWF) India, it is being described as a step to study and mitigate human-elephant conflict. The department plans to collar at least five elephants in high-conflict habitats in the coming months. Experts say the exercise is challenging and runs the risk of low success.

2 What it means? Radio collars are GPS-enabled collars and can relay information about an elephant's whereabouts. They weigh roughly 8 kg identifying a suitable candidate (generally an adult elephant), darting it with a sedative, and fitting the collar around its neck before it is revived. Additionally, the team also attaches an accelerometer to the collar to understand what exactly the elephant is doing at any given time (running, walking, eating, drinking, etc.).

3 Why is it done? The objectives are two-fold, said M.K. Yadava, Chief GPS would help us track and study the movement patterns of the herd, across regions and habitats, he said. Added Hiten Ba e will know where they are moving, which corridors they frequent, if the habitat is sufficient, if it needs protection, what is driving the conflict. The second objective is incidental : The collar would serve as an early warning system to people if elephants incidents, said veterinarian and elephant expert Kushal Konwar Sarma, who is involved in the exercise.

4 The Plan in Assam : In March 2020, the Ministry of Environment of Forest and Climate Change gave approval to collaring of five elephants nitpur and Biswanath districts. It set a number of of periodic reports. The Challenges : Collaring is an extremely time consuming and challenging exercise. We have to identify the matriarch of the herd we will tag identification alone takes time and involves us stalking them for days, said the elephant expert Sarma.

5 For there to go on foot. There is risk for very skilled experts on board and they are doing the job with utmost care. officials said, not all components for radio collaring are available in India including collars and tranquilising drugs. These have to be imported and are another challenge. Also elephants grow collars may become tight, so we usually take a senior elephant so there is less chance Baishya said, They will have it on for maximum six months, before it falls off, said Bibhuti Lakhar, a senior scientist. Last year, an elephant, which had strayed into Guwahati from Amchang Wildlife Sanctuary in 2019, was radio-collared on a trial basis. We monitored it for a month, but due to the weight of the belt and the elephant brushing against trees, the signal was feeble and ultimately the collar fell off, said a forest official.

6 Is it worth it? Yadava said while there were risks and the success rate was low, there has been no better mechanism than collaring to study conflict long-term.

Based on your understanding of the passage, answer the question below: 10*1=10

Q. (i) Show evidence from the passage that radio collaring of elephants is a challenging task.

Ans. The radio-collaring of elephants is a challenging task because they have to be imported and soon become tight and fall down.

Q. (ii) What purpose is served by radio collaring of elephants? 1

Ans. The purpose of radio collaring is to track and study the movements of the elephant.

Q. (iii) Which device in the collar gives information about the elephant's activities? 1

Ans. Radio collars with GPS give information about the elephant's movements.

Q. (iv) What are the twin objectives of collaring the elephants? 1

Ans. The twin objectives of collaring the elephants are to track them at the moment and, second, the collar would serve as an early warning system to people if elephant incidents occur.

Q. (v) What two conditions are prescribed by the concerned Ministry for collaring elephants? 1

Ans. The weight of the collar shouldn't be more than 8 kg and should be on the neck for a maximum of six months.

Q. (vi) Why is collaring a time-consuming exercise? 1

Ans. Collaring is a time-consuming exercise as darting it with a sedative and fitting the collar around its neck is very difficult. Second, the identification of the matriarch of the herd is again a difficult task.

Q. (vii) Why is it not advisable to put a collar on a young elephant? 1

Ans. It is not advisable to put a collar on a young elephant, as the young elephant will grow and become fat and the collar will become tight.

Q. (viii) Why does the collar fall off from the elephant's neck? 1

Ans. The collar falls off from the elephant's neck as the weight of the belt and the elephant brush against trees.

Q. (ix) Find the word in the passage which means "to make a person or animal unconscious". (Para 5) 1

Ans. tranquilising

Q. (x) What is the main idea in the paragraph?

Ans. Saving animals with help of technology.

Q. (xi) A wild elephant was radio-collared:

(a) study and mitigate human-elephant conflict.

(b) to check the weight

(c) trace the location of elephant.

(d) both b and c

Ans. (a) study and mitigate human-elephant conflict.

Passage II. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow: 10

2. Read the passage given below : 10

1 Research by a team of scientists has uncovered a surprising way to stimulate the development of healthy fat in humans. In the long-term, findings may have implications for the development of weight loss medication. These scientists found that the kind of stress that accompanies third degree burns may induce the human body to convert normal fat cells into brown fat, which burns calories at a higher rate. If future research can determine how and where the body accomplishes this conversion, it may be possible to develop drugs that induce artificial yet remarkably rapid fat burning in obese patients.

2 White adipose tissue normal, white fat accounts for most of the fat in the bodies of most mammals. Small mammals and newborn humans, however have a high proportion of brown fat. The difference between the two types led scientists to believe that brown fat has the potential to combat obesity. This is because brown fat contains excess of mitochondria : the structures within body cells that are responsible for producing energy. This means that brown fat burns more calories and releases more heat when it burns. After all, the function of naturally occurring brown fat is to generate heat in small animals, or in human infants, who do not yet have the ability to shiver.

3 The research began with the observation that patients with severe, widespread burns needed to consume more calories each day in order to maintain their weight. On studying the fat cells of 48 severe burn patients throughout their treatment, analysis of the fat samples revealed that what was once white adipose tissue , acquiring many characteristics similar to brown fat, including its ability to burn fat at a high rate. Of course we are still long way from the practical applications of these findings. This research however indicates the possibility of converting white fat into brown and reveals something about the conditions that catalyze such a conversion. BODY FAT CHANGES

Based on your understanding of the passage, answer the questions that follow:

Q. (i) What has the team of scientists uncovered ? 1

Ans. The team of scientists have uncovered the way to stimulate the development of healthy fat in humans.

Q. (ii) What kind of implications will the findings have ? 1

Ans. The findings may have implications for the development of weight loss medication.

Q. (iii) Does the information in the graphs support the author's statements regarding brown fat percentages in humans ? 1

Ans. Yes, the information in the graphs support the author's statements regarding brown fat percentages in humans.

Q. (iv) Based on the data in the graph, state at what age does the greatest percent change occur in body fat type. 1

Ans. The greatest percent change occur in body fat type is at age of 20.

Q. (v) What accounts for most of the fat in the bodies of mammals ? 1

Ans. White fat accounts for most of the fat in the bodies of most mammals.

Q. (vi) What does the passage state about small mammals and newborn humans ? 1

Ans. Small mammals and newborn humans have a high proportion of brown fat.

Q. (vii) What does brown fat contain ? What is it responsible for ? 1

Ans. Brown fat contains excess of mitochondria and it has the potential to combat obesity.

Q. (ix) What is the side effects of stress?

Ans. Stress converts normal fat cells into brown fat, which burns calories at a higher rate.

Q. (x) Brown fat has the capacity to control:

- (a) height
- (b) weight
- (c) obesity
- (d) both b and c

Ans. (d) both b and c

Respected sir

The body of the letter:

I, Mahesh, a responsible citizen of Urban Estate, Rohtak, want to highlight the increasing incidents of accidents in my city in your esteemed newspaper. The roads are closed due to heavy traffic and illegal encroachments by the shopkeepers. Accidents have become common in such areas.

The reasons behind road accidents are reckless driving and the encroachment of roads in the city by city dwellers. Furthermore, we find that people are always in a hurry and are unconcerned about speed bumps, cyclists, and pedestrians on the street during peak hours.

Drinking and driving are prohibited, but unfortunately, such cases of driving are increasing day by day. People are fond of breaking traffic rules, and they don't even care about the red light signals.

I want you to highlight such accidents and the causes behind them in your valuable newspaper. The police must strictly act against such people to save innocent lives. Please start an awareness programme for safe driving. I hope you will publish my concerns regarding accidents in your reputed newspaper. Thank you in anticipation.

August 15, 2022

As a class 12 student, I am writing a report on the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav/Independence Day 2022, which was observed in G.S.S.S., Bahadurgarh, and Jhajjar. Independence Day function. The school entrance was filled with national flags. Children at a primary school were holding national flags in their hands. The 75th Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav in India, with the theme "Nation First, Always First," was celebrated with different programs. The Rangoli was created in tricolour by students in class 12. The Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav started at 9 a.m. with the flag being hoisted by a girl who was highly qualified with excellent academic records. When the flag was hoisted, the National Anthem was played.

The principal, Sh Suresh Kumar, delivered a speech on Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav/Independence Day 2022. He asked the students to celebrate Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav in their neighbourhood.

Then, the cultural programmes started with Saraswati Vandna for the class 11 girls. After that, there was a speech on Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav in English by Payal, a student of Commerce 12. Then, there was Ragni, a teacher on patriotism who explained the freedom movement in India. After that, the poster-making programmes on Independence Day started.

After cultural and other competitions, the prize distribution programmes started. The chief guest distributed the prizes for the different activities. In the end, sweets were distributed to all, which were organised by our physical education teacher. Thus, the programme ended with flag hoisting by all the students and a song on national integration. The school commemorated the freedom fighters by raising the national flag on the whole campus. Finally, the principal declared a holiday on August 16.

B: India is commemorating its Constitution Day on November 26, 2022. Students and teachers of Govt. Sr. Sec. School Dadri Toye Celebrated Constitution Day 2022 in the school campus. Govt. Sr. Sec. School Dadri Toye Celebrates Constitution Day 2022 on November 26th. Write an article on Constitution Day in 125-200 words include the importance of preamble and values of constitution of India.

Answer:

India celebrates 26th day of November every year as 'Constitution Day' to promote Constitution values among citizens. The knowledge of the constitution helps the citizens to know about their rights and duties. Constitution Day is celebrated in the educational institutions throughout the country to mark the values of the Indian constitution. Indian constitution is developed to protect the peoples' rights and strengthening of democracy. Ambedkar, who presided over the Constituent Assembly's drafting committee and was essential in the constitution's writing.

We celebrate Constitution Day 2022 on November 26th, our nation observes Constitution Day, often referred to as "Samvidhan Divas," to mark the promulgation of the Indian Constitution. The Indian Constitution was enacted by the Constituent Assembly on November 26, 1949, and it became operative on January 26, 1950. The Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment on 19th November 2015 notified the decision of Government of India to celebrate the 26th day of November every year as 'Constitution Day' to promote Constitution values among citizens of India.

Preamble's importance

The preamble serves as an introduction to the act and clarifies the purpose and policy of the legislature. It outlines the primary goals that the legislation is meant to accomplish. Ideals that the Constitution aspires to accomplish are listed in the Preamble. Although it does not bestow any authority, it gives the Constitution direction and purpose. It describes the overall Constitution's goals. Additionally, it codifies the broad goals and socioeconomic objectives that must be accomplished through constitutional procedures. The phrase "We, the People of India..." shows that the Constitution is a product of the people and that they hold the sovereignty. The people's will is the Constitution's main inspiration. According to the Department of Education and Literacy, every student in every school read the preamble of the constitution. Previously, this day was observed as Law Day. Hence, the Constitution Day was chosen for this celebration to highlight the significance of the Constitution and to promote Ambedkar's ideals.

THE presidents of the New York Central and the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads will swear on a stack of timetables that there are only two. But I say there are three, because I've been on the third level of the Grand Central Station. Yes, I've taken the obvious step:

I talked to a psychiatrist friend of mine, among others. I told him about the third level at Grand Central Station, and he said it was a wakingdream wish fulfillment. He said I was unhappy. That made my wife kind of mad, but he explained that he meant the modern world is full of insecurity, fear, war, worry and all the rest of it, and that I just want to escape. Well, who doesn't? Everybody I know wants to escape, but they don't wander down into any third level at Grand Central Station

Q. i. The author talks of two levels. What are these levels and are they real?

Answer: The author talks of ground level and underground level.

Q. ii. 'I say there are three', what does it mean in the chapter "The Third Level"?

Answer: There no third level. It's just an escape from material problems.

Q. iii. Everyone wants to escape from the situation. Does Charley want to escape from his problem?

Answer: Yes, Charley wants to escape from the reality of his life.

Q. iv. What did author's friend tell him about his escape?

Answer: The modern world is full of insecurity, fear, war, worry

v. Is third level a reality or a way of escapism?(extra question)

Q. 3 Attempt ANY ONE of two extracts given. 1*6=6

Q. 3.A

A girl from the countryside, she hadn't gone through all the stages of worldly experience that generally precede a position of importance and sophistication that she had found herself catapulted into. She never quite recovered from the terror she felt that day. That was the end of a brief and brilliant acting career — the legal adviser, who was also a member of the Story Department, had unwittingly brought about that sad end. While every other member of the Department wore a kind of uniform — khadi dhoti with a slightly oversized and clumsily tailored white khadi shirt — the legal adviser wore pants and a tie and sometimes a coat that looked like a coat of mail. Often, he looked alone and helpless ... \(Poets and Pancakes\)

Q. 3.B

Some might make quite extravagant claims for it as being, in its highest form, a source of truth, and, in its practice, an art. Others, usually celebrities who see themselves as its victims, might despise the interview as an unwarranted intrusion into their lives, or feel that it somehow diminishes them, just as in some primitive cultures it is believed that if one takes a photographic portrait of somebody then one is stealing that person's soul. (The Interview)

i. What is the most likely reason some people consider the practice of interview to be an art? This could be because it requires

- A. fluency of words.
- B. sensitive and careful handling.
- C. creativity and imagination.
- D. probing and focusing on details.

Ans. Check Your Answer

ii. Rewrite the sentence by replacing the underlined phrase with its inference. Celebrities feel that an interview diminishes them.

V. Answer ANY FIVE of the following in about 40-50 words each. 5x2=10(Short Answer Questions)

i. "You realise the true value of a thing only on losing it." Comment on this statement in the light of the story, The Last Lesson.

Ans. As per M. Hamel, French was not going to be taught from tomorrow. Hamel informed the villagers that French was not going to be taught in the school. There was an order from Berlin that German would be taught in the schools of Alsace and Lorraine. The author, who showed no interest in the French language, started missing his mother tongue and felt sorry for not learning the language. Being a French teacher, he knew the value of language, but unfortunately, people couldn't realise the importance of French. Naturally, people realise the value only when they are free to learn the language. The same thing happened with the author. Everyone loves the country and its language. The mother tongue always reflects the rich culture of any country.

ii. State the common issue faced by most of the aged in the current times, with reference to the poem My Mother at Sixty-six.

Ans. All of us are going to be old one day, and aging is a natural process. In this poem, the poetess explains the old age of her mother, and she tries to explain that all of us have to become old. Old age symptoms and gestures are common among all human beings. She explains the problems of old age in her poem, "My Mother at Sixty-six." She was seated beside her mother and looked at her face. Her mother's face was 'doze, open-mouthed, her face ashen like that of a corpse'. All these words are the symbol of old age, which all of us have to face.

iii. What work did the "office boy" do in the Gemini Studios? Why did he join the studios? Why was he disappointed? Poets and Pancakes

Answer

The office boy was not an ordinary boy but a man in his forties. The office boy used to do the make-up for a large crowd in Gemini Studios. "Even the make-up department of the Gemini Studio had an 'office boy!'" The office boy of the studios was not a boy in the true sense of the word. He used to mix paint in a large vessel to throw it at the large crowd. The office boy was an educated and talented person who joined the Gemini Studio in the hope of becoming a famous actor or writer, but unfortunately, he couldn't. Therefore, he always used to criticise Subbu, who was No. 2 in Gemini Studios due to his higher caste. Yes, he was disappointed and he used to avenge his anger in front of the writer, Asokamitron.

iv. Give two reasons why, according to Pablo Neruda, is 'keeping quiet' essential to attaining a better, more peaceful world. \(Keeping Quiet\)

Ans. The poet, Pablo Neruda, wants to convey through his poem, Keeping Quiet, that stillness is important for human beings. He conveys this idea through the title of the poem. We are always busy with our actions and don't have time for self-reflection. Therefore, the poet wants us to be still for a second, and during this stillness, we will realise the importance of being quiet in our acts. This moment of silence will be an esoteric moment for the whole world.

v. What changes did the order from Berlin cause in school that day? The Last Lesson

Answer:

After the Prussians defeated the French Army, Berlin issued an order mandating that the German language be taught in schools beginning the following day. There won't be any French language and M. Hamel delivered his last lesson on the French language. It was his last day in school. As a result, villagers gathered in the school to bid him farewell after he had taught there for over forty years.

vi. Why do most celebrity writers despise being interviewed? (HBSE 2020; Pre-Board Jan. 2020) The Interview

Answer:

Most celebrity writers hate interviews as they blemish their reputations. V.S. Naipaul “feels that some people are wounded by interviews and lose a part of them.” Lewis Carroll, the writer of “Alice in Wonderland,” considered it “horror” and was never allowed to be interviewed. Rudyard Kipling and his wife, Caroline, expressed their criticism with a strong attitude toward the interviewer. She considers the interview “immoral”, “a crime”, and “vile”. H.G. Wells considered the interview an “ordeal”. They consider themselves victims of being interviewed

VI Answer ANY TWO of the following in about 40-50 words each. 2*2=4

i. ‘It’s easy to judge others and give advice, but much more difficult to apply it to ourselves.’ Elaborate with reference to the character of Sam in The Third Level.

Ans.The author or narrator of The Third Level creates a character named Charley who wishes to escape the problems in his life and travel to an imaginary world known as the third level. Charley fought with his girlfriend, Louisa. He was lost in his thoughts and wanted to reach home with this problem in his mind. He reached the third level of the Grand Central. It was a total escape from problems for Charley. On the ‘Central has been an exit, a way of maybe that’s how the tunnel I got into... ‘

ii. Comment on any one aspect of the writing style of the author, Kalki in The Tiger King. 2

Ans. The author uses the method of satire on the society. The Tiger King was a “man of indomitable courage face-to-face.” The most fantastic aspect of his demise was that, as soon as he was born, astrologers had foretold that one day the Tiger King would have to die. “The child will grow up to become the warrior of warriors, hero of heroes, champion of champions. But... “They bit their lips and swallowed hard.” When compelled to continue, the astrologers came up with it. “This is a secret which should not be revealed at all. And yet we are forced to speak out. “The child born under this star will one day have to meet its death.”

iii. How do we know that Dr. Sadao was conscientious as well as loyal? (The Enemy) 2

Ans. Sadao was a renowned surgeon who had taken an oath to save lives at any cost. They approached him and examined him. He was a wounded American soldier in the war. Dr. Sadao was in a pickle. Should he treat the injured American soldier or turn him over to the police? They would be arrested if they kept the man in their home. He would die if they left him there. They took him to their house after much deliberation. The servants were terrified when they saw the person and asked the doctor not to treat the war prisoner. They protested by leaving the house. This is how he was able to save his life as a doctor, but as a citizen, we might think that he didn't fulfill his duty. Dr. Sadao did his duty as a doctor and saved the life of a soldier by fleeing from his house. It was natural for a doctor who saved their life to kill the same person whose life he had saved.

Long Answer Questions

VII Answer ANY ONE of the following in about 120-150 words. 1x5=5

i. You've finished The Last Lesson and Indigo. There is a concept of patriotism in both chapters. "The Last Lesson" and "Indigo" There is a concept of patriotism in both chapters. M. Hamel explains the importance of language in "Indigo" country in "The Last Lesson." M. Hamel helps people understand the importance of language in "The Last Lesson," and Gandhiji helps people overcome their fear of landowners in "Indigo." Explain in 120-150 words how the two chapters make people love their rights, elaborating on events in the two chapters that make readers love their countries.

Answer:

Patriotism is your love for your country, and students learn the value of patriotism in "The Last Lesson" and "Indigo." M. Hamel, the teacher in "The Last Lesson," tells the students how important the language, French, is for their country, as it keeps the people united in their fight against the Germans. Germans had taken over the districts of Alsace and Lorraine. The author realises the value of learning French on the last day of French class. In Indigo, Gandhiji assisted people in overcoming their fear of landlords, and the freedom movement began in Champaran. The people of the Champaran district overcame their fear. Gandhi's own acts of civil disobedience aided the Indian freedom movement.

ii. 'My Mother at Sixty-six' and 'Aunt Jennifer's Thigiers' are two poems about elderly women. Both are elderly and have become helpless with age. Explain the problems of old age by elaborating on old age symbols. Consider yourself a teacher, and speak to your students about the symptoms of old age and helplessness in both poems.

You may begin like this ... Good morning, students! We all know that old age is a reality and how we become helpless in old age.....

Ans.

Good day, students! As you may have noticed, there are many elderly people in your communities who face numerous challenges as a result of their age. Everyone's physical appearance of old age is the same. We finished both of our poems, 'My Mother at Sixty-six' and

'Aunt Jennifer's Thigiers.' We must all face the reality of old age. In 'My Mother at Sixty-six,' the poet describes her mother's old age as "doze, open mouthed, her face ashen like." Aifingers nt's are incapable of knitting in 'Aunt Jennifer's Thigiers.' Aunt Jennifer has always had to bear the burden of a wedding band. Children and young tigers are used as symbols of youth in both poems. As a result, our bodies change as we age, and we all become helpless as we age.

Q. i. While hatred against a member of the enemy race is justifiable, especially during wartime, what makes a human being rise above narrow prejudices? Explain it with the help of 'The Enemy'

We may encounter situations in our lives where our profession requires us to do our duty but our duty to others prevents us from doing so. Such conditions arise at the time of war and with the people who are involved in the war. Dr. Sadao also faces the dilemma of treating an American soldier as a doctor or handing over the soldier to the police to show his integrity towards his nation.

Sadao was a renowned surgeon who had taken an oath to save lives at any cost. They approached him and examined him. He was a wounded American soldier in the war. Dr. Sadao was in a pickle. Should he treat the injured American soldier or turn him over to the police? They would be arrested if they kept the man in their home. He would die if they left him there. They took him to their house after much deliberation. The servants were terrified when they saw the person and asked the doctor not to treat the war prisoner.

Q. ii. It's human nature to take the easy way out by ignoring problems rather than dealing with them. We try to find easy respite. Is the "Third Level" in the story a medium or a way of escaping from the unpleasant and insecure present?

The author addresses the human nature of running away from a problem and seeking solace in an imaginary world in The Third Level. In The Third Level, the author or narrator, Jack Finney, creates a character named Charley who wishes to escape the problems in his life and walk into an imaginary world known as the third level.

Charley wants to escape from reality. One day, he was coming home from his office. He decided to travel by train and reached the Grand Central Railway Station. In the meantime, he lost himself in his thoughts and reached the imagistic third level, where he felt happy to see a different world. It is human nature to run away from the present, and sometimes it feels like a temporary relief, but it is not the solution to the problem. Charley also did the same thing and lost himself in an imaginary world where he wouldn't have any stress, anxiety, or fatigue from the modern world. Therefore, the author uses the medium of the third level to explain human apathy to have some consolation in the tense situation, like Charley's way of escapism.

It would just mean running away, leaving, or ignoring a bad situation instead of dealing with it or being afraid of it
